

Weather / Climate

The climate has always been Florida's most important natural resources, which is reflected in its official nickname, the "Sunshine State."

South Florida, in the Miami Beach, Ft. Lauderdale and Hollywood Beach area, has the only sub-tropic climate in the United States, other than Hawaii.

This region is exposed to daytime onshore breezes and enjoys comfortable temperatures during most of the year. In wintertime, it is one of the warmest places in the U.S. mainland, with sunny days and balmy nights.

The meeting rooms can be cool, please pack accordingly.

Average Temperatures

December	High - 74°F	Low - 65°F	Rain - 1.98 in.	Ocean Temp - 73°F
-----------------	----------------	---------------	--------------------	----------------------

CLICK HERE FOR CURRENT WEATHER CONDITIONS