

American College of Neuropsychopharmacology

2014 ACNP Joel Elkes Research Award

- 1. The American College of Neuropsychopharmacology (ACNP) presents the Joel Elkes Research Award to a young scientist in recognition of an outstanding clinical contribution to neuropsychopharmacology.
2. Any scientist, worldwide, may nominate an individual for this award by submitting to the Awards Committee:
a. The nominating letter (no more than three pages) should include a description of the contribution(s) of the candidate, and also the significance of his/her contribution(s);
b. The curriculum vitae of the candidate;
c. No more than three papers representing the contribution(s) (career contributions or specific works) upon which the Award would be based.

*Individuals who believe that they meet the qualifications for the award are encouraged to request a nomination from a qualified scientist. The nominee could provide the nominator with a draft of the nominating letter and above reference documents (b-c).

Note: neither the nominee nor the nominator is required to be an ACNP member.

- 3. The recipient of the Elkes Research Award must be fifty (50) years of age or younger as of December 31, 2014. He/she does not need to be a member of the ACNP or a citizen of the United States.
4. Individuals who have received the Joel Elkes Research Award are:
