

David Giwerc, M.C.C., M.C.A.C, B.C.C., is Founder and President of the ADD Coach Academy, www.ADDCA.com, the world's foremost ADHD coach training program. The ADD Coach Academy (founded 1998) is the first and only comprehensive ADHD coach training program fully accredited by the International Coach Federation, (ICF), the global governing body for the coaching profession, the Center for Credentialing & Education, (CCE), and the Professional Association of ADHD Coaches, (PAAC), the organization responsible for establishing and maintaining international standards of excellence for credentialing ADHD coaches and accrediting qualified ADHD coach training schools and programs.

David is a Master Certified ADHD Coach, MCAC with the Professional Association of ADHD Coaches, (PAAC), a Master Certified Coach, MCC, with the International Coach Federation, ICF and a Board Certified Coach, BCC, with the Center for Credentialing & Education, CCE. For over fifteen years, David has established an internationally recognized coaching practice dedicated to empowering AD/HD entrepreneurs, and executives.

David serves on the Professional Advisory Board of the Attention Deficit Disorder Association, (ADDA), and the Professional Association of ADHD Coaches (PAAC). He served, (2003-2006), as president of the Attention Deficit Disorder Association, (ADDA), the world's leading organization supporting adults with ADHD.

As ADDA's president, David was a catalyst for U.S. resolution 390 which was unanimously approved by the United States Senate on July 6, 2004. The resolution declared September 14, 2005, "National AD/HD Awareness Day." Since its inception in the United States, it has grown internationally as an annual event designed to educate people, all over the world, about ADHD and the importance of proper diagnosis and treatment.

David continues to be a spokesperson for the ADHD Coaching profession where he has been featured in numerous national publications, radio and television programs and also been a key presenter at various national, international conferences.

David is the author of the groundbreaking book, "Permission to Proceed, The Keys to Creating a Life of Passion Purpose and Possibility for Adults with ADHD." In his debut book, David shares his unique & effective coaching models for gaining control of one's ADHD in life at home, work and in the community.
